

ELECTION RESULTS.

Democratic Landslides in Republican Strongholds—Ohio, Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Returns, practically complete, in New York City are in. They give McClellan (D) 225,221, Hearst (M. O.) 222,802, Ivins (R) 135,498.

Returns disclose a Democratic landslide in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In San Francisco Schmitz is elected Mayor by 11,800 majority. The entire Union Labor ticket has also been elected by majorities ranging from 4,000 to 7,000.

The State of Pennsylvania has been carried by the Democrats. The reform element carried Philadelphia.

Tom Johnson (Dem) was elected Mayor of Cleveland.

The entire anti-Mormon ticket was defeated in Salt Lake.

Beard (Dem) was elected Mayor of Sacramento.

Curtis was elected Governor of Massachusetts by 21,535. Draper for Lieutenant Governor is elected by 3,494.

The Democrats swept Ohio with Patterson as Governor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Schmitz plurality is 11,504. The ordinance raising the liquor license from $4 to $500 a year was defeated by 2,891.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Patterson and entire Democratic ticket safe.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Reformers' ticket carried in Philadelphia by 75,000. Republicans lost control of treasury for the first time in fifty years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Indications point to the election of McClellan, but Hearst will contest.

District Attorney Jerome acknowledges defeat but says he will see that Hearst gets a fair count.

The New York Evening Journal says no bets will be paid until after the recount.

John Navacovich Dead.

John Navacovich, a former resident of Washoe Valley and well and favorably known in this city, died last evening in Virginia City after a long illness. Mr. Navacovich was an invalid for the past year or two and only recently returned from San Francisco where he went for treatment.

The deceased was a native of Austria and was aged 63 years. He came to this city when a young man and engaged in farming in Washoe Valley. He leaves two daughters, Miss Jennie Navacovich, who teaches school near Reno, and Miss Dora Navacovich, who teaches the Clear Creek school. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

S. F. Chronicle Building Damaged.

The Chronicle building in San Francisco was seriously damaged by fire last night during the celebration of the Schmitz victory. The edition was run off on the Examiner presses. No statement of the loss has been given out. The fire was due to the exploding bombs setting the dome of the structure ablaze.

ERVILLE.

Carson Valley Must Be in Trade.

The Carson Valley people are out for the freighting trade to Bodie and other northern points. The commissioners of Lyon County are to assist in the repaving of the roads that lead from Wabuska to the stage road south. Carson valley is in the same fix. The Commissioners have selected a new route from Gardnerville and it is proposed to make a number of cut-offs that will shorten the distance and eliminate the heavy grades.

Carson has been interested in the problem, as for the past few months all the Bodie freight has passed through this city. The freighting is a good thing and any community that can hold it will be a winner many dollars in a season.

After the first of the year it will be Carson Valley or Mason Valley for the trade. The new road up the valley will practically cut this city off the line and will land the hauling a day closer to Bodie. The new road lands the goods on the main line of travel and the first day out takes the teams over the hardest pull of the route. This seems an advantage to the people up the valley, and with the better grades will be more than able to hold their own. Carson can be interested only as a sub station, as the big teams will not come to this city when they can load some twenty miles nearer their destination.

Carson will always benefit in a measure with the trade out south, but the bulk of freighting is to go from Gardnerville or the terminal of the new road. Our merchants will have to get a hustle on to hold their own with the up-valley merchants, as they have twenty miles the better haul and the railroad will be at their door. The members of the Improvement Association will see what they can do to help the matter along and keep the trade coming this way.

Skipped the Country.

L. Luchessi and C. Roggi, two Italians who some months ago leased a ranch from J. B. Gallagher, skipped out the first of last week, leaving many creditors in the lurch, says the Lyon county Times. Mr. Gallagher is out the rent of the ranch beside a fine span of mules, a wagon and some other farm implements which the thrifty leasers disposed of.

Carrie Nation was in St. Louis the other day on her way to fill a lecture engagement. Hearing that Miss Pheobe Cousins, the noted woman suffragist was at one of the hotels there, Mrs. Nation sent up her card. Miss Cousins told the well-known "I don't want either to see or talk with Mrs. Nation." Carrie departed in triumph, saying Miss Cousins was afraid of an interview. The latter dryly coincided in this view on hearing of the saloon-smasher's remark.

NEXT ATTRACTION.

"Washington Society Girls" for Next Tuesday Night.

Amongst the many features of the big beauty show, "Washington Society Girls" which will be seen at the Carson Opera House Nov. 14th, the chorus of pretty girls is not the least to be acceptable. A girl must have one of two qualifications highly developed or must have both of them developed to a degree. Either she must be a good singer, possessed of passably good looks, or she must be exceedingly pretty and the owner of a voice that is at least not unmelodious. Superbness of figure, beauty of face and excellence of voice are the crowning qualifications that concede the "Washington Society Girls" the right to occupy the distinguished positions in the realm of beauty and accomplishments.

Manager Broili Resigns.

F. O. Broili, who has been manager of the electric plant in this city, has resigned and will accept a more lucrative position in Tonopah. Mr. Broili has been a faithful employee and very agreeable in his dealings with patrons of the company. It is not yet known who his successor will be. Mr. Broili tendered his resignation on the 23rd, of October, but the company tried to prevail on him to reconsider, but without effect, and he will begin his duties on the 15th, inst. as general manager of the Tonopah Light Company.—Enterprise.

A Tuscarora Find.

That Nevada has never been thoroughly prospected for the precious metals is conclusively proved by the following incident related by Commissioner Snyder of Tuscarora: A short time ago some strange prospectors came to Tuscarora and began prospecting the hills north of town. The ground has been examined by the prospectors time and again, but nothing was found to indicate the presence of gold. There is a cropping of iron stained rock in these hills that looked so worthless to prospectors that no one would waste money for an assay or go to the trouble of panning it. These new prospectors had an assay made of this worthless looking rock and it showed $8 to the ton in gold. They then began sinking and a few feet below the surface the values increased to $35 a ton in gold and the ledge widened out to twelve feet, carrying values across its entire face. Mr. Snyder told the reporter that he had often tramped over this hill in search of ledges and knew of this cropping for several years, but never thought it carried either of the precious metals. He thinks the men who made the discovery have a bonanza in prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Anderson have returned to Elko being called here by the death of Will Mather.

THE FINAL PLEA.

Board of Pardons Will Be Asked to Extend Mercy.

Tomorrow is the day set for the final plea to save the lives of the four condemned men awaiting execution for the murder of Jack Welsh.

A number of parties, who have humanity and modern methods in their belief are making the fight for the extending of clemency to the men who are condemned to face the scaffold. District Attorney Roberts has been engaged by the forces to make a plea before the Board of Pardons and ask that the sentence be commuted from that of death to life imprisonment. Rev. B. J. Darnelle is also taking an active part in the battle for the four lives and Dorsey Noteware is also using his endeavors to have the death sentence set aside.

The parties who have become interested in the case are doing the work purely from a humane standpoint. They have, none of them, expressed the emphatic belief that the men are guiltless, but they all, in a measure, look upon the crime as one with many complications and a chance for a mistake. Roberts has been considered of an infirm mind and his case is one that has caused a great deal of effort on their part.

The trial jurors in three instances have found all four guilty and the Supreme Court has likewise reviewed the case twice with the same result, so there seems to be little doubt as to the guilty parties. The question to be presented to the Board of Pardons is the law of hanging men a just one and is it not barbaric in the extreme?

The Appeal has never clamored for the death of the murderers, as it does not believe in hanging as a mode of punishment that should be dealt out to men who commit murder. Other states have cast off the barbaric custom of taking life to compensate for a murder done and the plan has met with success. The plan of hanging was inaugurated three centuries ago in England when a murderer was dragged to death behind a cart, and has been followed ever since by some mode or another. The improved trap is simply a quicker way of disposing of a murderous fellow creature, but the plan is the same as was established centuries ago. It is time for Nevada to follow in the steps of more modern methods and place her criminals out of harms way by imprisonment and hard work for those who have fallen into the terrible condition that the four murderers are in now.

Those who have interested themselves in the case have abundance of evidence to show that hanging is not the proper way of mitigating a crime and should the men hang there will be the disagreeable duty of taking human life by men who have neither the desire to do it or who gain by the terrible ordeal. The proceedings of the Board will be watched with interest.

Professor Appointed.

A letter received this morning from Dr. Stubbs states that he has succeeded in getting a professor to take charge of the civil engineering course at the State University. He has appointed Horatio W. Baker, a graduate of the Illinois state university of the class of 1901 to fill the position. Since his graduation, Mr. Baker has constantly employed at his profession and is said to be thoroughly competent for the work he will have to do in the Nevada university. He will assume his duties on the first of December. Dr. Stubbs was in Philadelphia when the letter was written.—Independent.
